MISS

Cheryl Serio

Seattle's Queen of Retro Cool

Growing up in the Chicago, Cheryl loved old movies. She would spend hours and hours watching them on her little black and white TV in her bedroom. She especially loved the classic musicals of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, Gene Kelly and Frank Sinatra. She longed to put on a top hat and sing in the rain- from here to eternity!

In 1996, she left her sweet home Chicago and moved to Seattle. She now gets to sing all the tunes made popular by her screen idols at concerts, nightclubs and special events throughout the Puget Sound.

Cheryl calls her unique blend of vintage jazz, pop and cabaret “Rat Pack Jazz”— music reminiscent of the Vegas showroom heydays of the 1950s –early 1960s when crooners and chanteuses sang swingin’ tunes, drank martinis and laughed into the wee hours of the morning. Gene Stout, Pop Music Critic of the Seattle Post Intelligencer, describes her music as “Well executed classics which she performs beautifully.” Her music places her in the ranks of contemporary artists putting their own unique spin on classic American standards such as Madeleine Peyroux, Michael Buble and Diana Krall.

Her brand of “Rat Pack Jazz” can be heard on her two CD releases. Her 2000 debut recording, Dames let her strut her vocal stuff over a colorful variety of styles. Dames includes the bass trombone stomp of “Shaking the Blues Away”, the breezy bongo swing of “The Good Life” and her very own interpretation of “Lady Is a Tramp”.

The “Lovely and Vivacious” Miss Cheryl Serio has recently performed for The Pacific Place Holiday Concert Series, Little Creek Casino & Resort, Quil Ceda Creek Casino and Egan’s Ballard Jam House—to name a few. She also is the lead singer for the 1960s spy-pop band The Spyrographs, the ABBA cover band The ABBAgraphs, the tropical lounge band The Tikigraphs and has starred in many cabaret reviews including “Dames”, “Risque Business” and “K-Tel Cabaret”.

Drawing upon her improv comedy skills, Cheryl produces comedy Murder Mysteries for Murder for Sale. This popular form of entertainment has you piece together clues and attempt to solve a murderous crime by interacting with characters.

Cheryl is a Master Scuba Diver and a vegetarian. She has an encyclopedic knowledge of The Brady Bunch, loves The Beatles and Manhattans served up.
